DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 20 May 2002 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DIGIOVANNI et al. (WO 97/16360)<sup>1</sup> in view of CUNNINGHAM (3,709,410).

In column 3, line 1 to column 4 line 38, DIGIOVANNI et al. teaches of a metering valve having a body (1) defining a metering chamber (2), seals (3,4), a spring (5) and a stem (10), made of PTFE. The propellant used in the dispenser is disclosed as HFA. DIGIOVANNI et al. does not explicitly teach making any other part of the valve of PTFE. CUNNINGHAM teaches that it is known in the dispensing valve art to make a valve body of Teflon (PTFE). It is established that Teflon has the well known properties of being chemically non-reactive to a many materials and further to provide non-stick characteristics.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have made any of the valve structure parts, including the valve body and metering chamber of DIGIOVANNI et al. out of PTFE as both DIGIOVANNI et al. CUNNING HAM teaches that it is known in the dispensing valve art to make various parts out of Teflon (PTFE) in order to take advantage of Teflon's well known properties such as enhanced chemical non-reactiveness and non-stick characteristics.

Further, with respect to claim 10, the dispensing of drugs from a metering dose dispenser as shown by Di Giovanni et al. is well established in the dispensing art. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have selected the substance to be dispensed of Di Giovanni et al. to be a drug in order to obtain the advantages of the Di Giovanni et al. dispenser in dispensing a drug.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed May 20, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5

Art Unit: 3754

USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992).

In this case, polytetrafluoroethylene (Teflon™) as demonstrated by the references is known for use in the field of dispensing valves, further Teflon™ is known to possess the desirable characteristics as recited by the examiner. The motivation for combining the references is to take advantage of a particular material that is already known to be used in the art to obtain its known desirable characteristics.

Conclusion

5. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
